CNET/Woodcut

As a means of earning money for the Battalion, the Unit Midshipmen converged on McDonald Forest for the Battalion Woodcut early in April. It was 3 days of Midshipmen vs. the Forest, and the Forest didn’t have a chance. Neither did the Midshipmen in their fight against Poison Oak, as this itchy plant was in fine form, giving the Unit the best harvest of allergic reactions yet.

Later in the Month was the Chief of Naval Education and Training Inspection (CNET) led by Inspector General Captain COLBERT. While CAPT COLBERT was inspecting the Battalion, his team was going over Unit records to see how effective the Midshipmen Battalion was in preparing officers for the fleet. Apparently CAPT COLBERT was pleased, and the OSU NROTC UNIT remained “The Best in the West.”

1. The popular game of Catch-the-Log. 2. “Tell me Candidate, is the world off balance, or are you leaning back?” 3. “The Chief said make sure no wood falls out... we can, but we better not lose any wood, or else!” 4. Of course, the entire day wasn’t spent cutting wood! 5. You load fifteen tons and what do you get... 6. Relearning the ancient lost art of Blade sharpening.
Spring Commissioning

Eleven new Ensigns, and six new Second Lieutenants began their careers in the United States Navy and Marine Corps at the Spring Commissioning ceremony held on Sunday morning, 3 June 1984 in the LaSells Stewart Center.

Colonel Michael E. Stein, Commanding Officer and Professor of Naval Science, delivered the welcoming address. Dr. Robert MacVicar, President of Oregon State University, added a few remarks of praise and wished the new officers all the best in their military careers.

Vice Admiral James A. Sagerholm, USN, Chief of Naval Education and Training, delivered the commissioning address and presented the new officers with their commissions. After the signing of the commissioning log, the new officers attended a small reception in the lobby, and pinned on their shoulder boards and bars of Ensigns and Second Lieutenants. The entire midshipmen battalion and staff would like to wish these new officers Fair Winds and Following Seas.

1. The Marine Options take their commissioning oath. 2. Followed by the Navy Options. 3. Vice ADMIRAL SAGERHOLM administered the oath. 4. ENSIGN WILSON presented a sword at the individual commissioning ceremony. 5. ENSIGN WINEBARGER signs the commissioning log. 6. VICE ADMIRAL SAGERHOLM administering the Ensign's the oath of office.
Senior Seminar

Senior Seminar is held each year for Seniors to express concerns; anxieties, questions, comments, and just about anything else that comes to mind, concerning what awaits them after commissioning in June. Including discussions with officers in their various warfare specialties, a bar-b-que created by Chef’s NESS and TANSEY, with Sauce-Man DENNY at the helm, the Seniors and Staff were treated to a culinary display of chicken, hot dogs, corn on the cob and beans. It was also a chance for the Seniors, who have developed into a close knit group, to spend one of their last chances together before dispersing into the fleet.

1. LINDSAY tells it like it is. 2. DENNY serves some of his famous killer sauce. 3. Listening intently while CDR ROBERTSON tells of his air battles fought during the Lower Slovbia Campaign. 4. It was an exciting weekend. 5. With plenty of merriment for all.
1. I don’t wanna, I don’t wanna! 2. “Ah, I love the smell of Sawdust in the Morning!” 3. If you join the rifle team, you too can look like this! 4. Wollenbecker, above it all. 5. “Where’s mine, this is mine, no that’s yours, no its here . . . .” 6. Now this is what I call equal opportunity. 7. BALAN at his finest.
June 1984 marks the end of another milestone year for the OSU NROTC Color Guard. This year's team once again proved that the OSU NROTC is simply the best. For the second year in a row, the Color Guard was invited to the flag retirement ceremony in Independence, Oregon, honoring flags that have flown over many locations, both here and abroad, in peace and in war.

The Color Guard, under the command of Midn. LTjg S. B. DORMAN, also took part in the opening Ceremonies of several OSU basketball games, participated in the Albany Veteran's Day Parade, the largest one west of the Mississippi, Mom's Weekend and Armed Forces Day.

The other members of the Color Guard, led by MPO/Color Squad Leader Midn COP D. KRAUS and Rifle Squad Leader Midn FOI R. A. HARMON, included Midn 4/C A. M. BILTON-SMITH, C. T. FOX and A. J. PULICELLA.
Drum & Bugle Corps

This year was one of the OSU NROTC Drum & Bugle Corps finest. With an outstanding group of Rookies and a dedicated, professional staff, the D&B made plans for a successful year.

After taking first place in the Albany Veterans Day Parade, then again in the Sweethome Christmas Parade, the D&B started preparing for mock-comp and Northwest Navy. Many hours of grueling practice, inspections, music and marching paid off when the D&B distinguished itself as the "Best in the West . . ." at the Northwest Navy Competition in February.

After a quick dip in the pool, a few cool drinks and a nightmare ride back to Corvallis, the D&B again started to prepare for several more performances — the Tri-Service Review and Mom's Weekend being the most notable ones.

All in all it was a fast paced, exciting year for everyone concerned. An outstanding staff, motivated rookies and determination from both to be their very best.
Drill Team

This year's Naval ROTC Drill Team, led by Midn LTjg R. C. HICKS, upheld its long tradition of excellence. Through a year of trials and tribulations, the Drill Team survived to take NW Navy and rebuild for next year's season.

Assisting Mr. HICKS in the leadership of the team was MidnENS C. D. HOGGATT and Midn MPO J. D. ANSLEY. The other team members included: Midn PO1 J. B. DAVID, Midn PO1 T. P. HARRYMAN, Midn PO1 D. S. PIXLER, along with Midn 4/C: D. B. ADAMS, S. W. BRACKEN, J. D. BREAZEAL, W. D. CHATMAN, G. R. HILBERG, S. C. OSBORNE and S. R. TRAUTWEIN. Next year's DTCO, DTXO and DTMPO will be Mr. PIXLER, Mr. HARRYMAN, and Mr. DAVID, respectively.

The Drill Team nearly swept all of the awards at the NW Navy competition, with S. W. BRACKEN taking the individual drill knockout trophy. The team also marched in the Albany Veteran's Day Parade and Mom's Weekend.
Unit Teams

Rifle Team

This year the Rifle Team enjoyed a successful year competing both at Northwest Navy and in the Willamette Valley League. Under the leadership of Midn LTjg V. J. LOONEY, the team enjoyed both victory and defeat, as well as new and improved equipment, which substantially helped the team’s performance.

Pistol Team

This year the Pistol Team rose to new heights of glory, taking first in the national Navy League Pistol Competition, first at Northwest Navy, and with team CO, Midn LT J.G. R. G. JAMIESON taking first both at NW Navy and in the national competition. Also enjoying new and improved equipment, the team was a model of efficiency and precision shooting, ready to take on all challengers and emerge victorious.

Swim Team

The Swim Team competed solely at NW Navy this year, and gave a strong performance. Coached by Chief ALFORD, and swim team captain Midn 1/C D. E. BURGESS, who gave support and encouraged the team to success, both in personal achievement and in the competition at NW Navy.

PFT Team

Both the Women and the Men PFT Teams showed an outstanding performance of physical fitness this year at NW Navy. The women’s team retained their 1st place trophy, while the men placed 3rd. Outstanding performers are: Midn 1/C D. E. BURGESS, D. J. PYNES, K. D. RICHARDSON, B. M. HOLDENER, Midn 2/C M. D. HENDERSON, N. R. RUSSNOGLE and Midn 4/C C. A. WHITE.
Clubs & Public Affairs

Semper Fi

This year’s Semper Fi club continued its longstanding tradition of duty, honor and country in its service both to the Unit and its activities. Major W. N. Myers USMC continued his tenure as advisor, working with Midn 1/C R. M. WERSEL, K. M. MCCONNELL and Midn 2/C J. M. COULTER, the club’s President, Secretary and Treasurer respectively. The club held its annual woodcut and ski trip as well as actively preparing Junior Marine Options for “Bulldog,” the Summer Training Cruise held for M.O.’s.

Mare Nostrum

This year’s Mare Nostrum club continued to build with a strong new cadre of freshmen working with experienced upperclassman. LT PILSOF took over the helm of the club’s Advisor, leading them to two very successful parties, one on the beach, the other in town, and continuing the paper drive which raised better than $200.

Harpoon

This year’s HARPOON Staff differed from previous years in that Journalism credit could be earned for work done with the yearbook. Although not a guaranteed A, it helped reward this hardworking staff for their efforts. This year’s staff includes: Midn 2/C J. D. ANSLEY; Midn 3/C C. A. GUNZEL, D. W. WILLITS (EDITOR); Midn 4/C S. A. AKERS, T. CHARLESWORTH (ASSIT. EDITOR) and S. W. BRACKEN.

Albatross

Putting out a newspaper three times a year is not an easy job, especially when most of the newsworthy events occur within days of the final deadline. But Midn 1/C M. T. WINEBARGER (Fall) and Midn 2/C K. G. MANRING (WINTER & SPRING) pulled through, providing new ideas and innovations with each issue, making this year’s ALBATROSS it’s best yet. Albatross also enjoyed earning 2 credits of Journalism credit per term.

Photo Crew

This year’s Photo Crew was commanded by Midn 2/C D. M. MABEE, with the rest of the staff listed on page 74. The Photo Crew is the unseen (most of the time) hero’s of public affairs, as certain members each year devote themselves to picking up all the loose ends and ensuring that the ALBATROSS, HARPOOS and other Public Affairs projects receive their photos. Everyone deserves a hearty thanks for the consistency, effort, and hard work.

Editor's Notes:

There are several people who deserve recognition for their efforts in producing the HARPOON this year. First, LT CHEESEMAN, without whose guidance and support this yearbook would not have made any improvements over previous years. My staff: Tim Charlesworth (Assistant Editor and a good one), Chuck Gunzel (who always had the job done before I could ask for it), Jeff Ansley (for his consistent support), Scott Akers (a friend for several years whose support was appreciated) and Stu Bracken. Others outside my staff include: The Photo Crew, the Senior Class and LT COE for their excellent photo captions, Susan Bastendorff for typing skills as well as her patience and especially to our new secretary, Ms. Joanne Day, whose efforts are responsible for the accurate typing of many of our copy sheets at the last minute. Russ Gartt for his suggestion and obtaining the cover for us, which is also the cover of the book: THE HISTORY OF AMERICAN SAILING SHIPS by Howard J. Chapelle. Various Seniors and Ensigns, along with ECP's who helped out during the summer when the HARPOON was in its final stages of completion, Dorothy & Gerry Willits for allowing their bathroom to become a permanent darkroom.

Commander ROBERTSON for his excellent proofreading skills. Also, Kenneth C. Schaffer and Brian G.H. Dallenbach, two "civies" whose help proved invaluable over the year. A special thank you to the dozens of people throughout the year who provided helpful hints, constructive criticism and ideas to make the yearbook better than ever. To all of you: Thank You. We couldn't have done it without you.

As for next year, we are aiming for even bigger and better than before. This year marks a leap from 64 to 80 pages, largely possible because of efforts of the following people in Ad Sales: Ansley, Akers, Bryant, Gunzel ($150 +). Nusbaum ($450), Wersel and Wilson. We also had the benefit of a record contribution from parents. To all of you, thank you again for your support. This yearbook is not perfect, indeed there is much that could be changed or improved, many errors that should have been forseen, but were not. Next year we can do better, learning from this year's mistakes. If you have any ideas, suggestions, constructive criticism, etc., let us know. It's your yearbook, we just put it together. Let us know what you are thinking.
